2024 Maine Camp Directory

Hello from beautiful Maine!

You are holding the 2024 edition of the Maine Summer Camps directory. This directory lists nearly 150 of the best summer camps in the world. Maine camps represent a delightful range of experiences — overnight and day camps, specialized and general interest camps, wilderness adventures and intensive studio experiences, and the chance to experience Maine's rivers, lakes, mountains, and beaches. There is literally something for every child and teen.

Regardless of what makes camps different, each one listed here offers things in common, especially the space and time for young people to learn, have fun, and make connections they will have for life. Maine camps have a history that dates back almost 120 years, but the time and space offered campers may be more important in 2024 than ever before.

If your family would like some guidance, Maine Summer Camps is here to help. We invite you visit www.mainecamps.org to use our Find-A-Camp Tool and benefit from our pointers for finding a camp that is the right fit for a child's needs and interests. Please reach out to our office staff if you need additional assistance.

Every young person needs a summer at camp, and there is a Maine camp for every one of them. Enjoy finding yours!

Sincerely,

Matt Pines

Why a Maine Summer Camp?

There's no place quite like Maine

For more than 100 years, families have come to appreciate Maine's summer camps as a haven for kids to experience natural beauty and have their emotional, social, physical and cognitive needs met by highly qualified adults.

Maine is more than a place—it's a feeling you get as soon as you arrive. Suddenly, the air's a little fresher, the pines taller, the lakes clearer. You can hear the essence of Maine in the cry of a loon, taste it in a fresh-caught trout, and watch the sun rise a little earlier in Maine than anywhere else in America. The fact is, there's more of Maine, and more to Maine, than the rest of New England combined: deeper forests, bigger lakes, more rugged mountains, longer rivers and more than 3000 miles of shoreline.

Maine Camps take fun seriously

Maine Summer Camps reflect all the possibilities of Maine. Camps can be as traditional as a days-long canoe trip and as futuristic as rocketry. Among our nearly 150 member camps, many help develop skills in sports and outdoor adventure; some teach a musical instrument, others may inspire kids to plant the seeds of the next forest.

Whether operating public or private camps, all Maine camp directors take a highly professional approach to their jobs. They work to foster growth and instill the timeless values of teamwork, responsibility and mutual respect, while always putting children's well-being first. That means carefully screening and training counselors, inspecting and repairing facilities, and accommodating the varying needs of children. It's no surprise that Maine was the first state to inspect youth camps for health and safety, as well as the first to certify Trip Leaders.

At camp, kids can reach their full potential

Today's high-tech lifestyle undoubtedly offers children countless opportunities. But many kids miss out on some of the most important ingredients in becoming healthy adults: connection to nature; exercise and play; meaningful friendships; and positive adult role models. Maine camps are largely “unplugged,” offering chances to connect in meaningful, face-to-face, respectful ways. Time spent at a Maine Summer Camp can restore balance to childrens' over-scheduled days, teach lifelong skills and allow friendships to flourish. It can help build a foundation for a successful and happy life.

The key benefits to kids of summer camp

■ Community and Friendship

Online friends and interactions are no substitute for real, in-person friends and mentors. At Maine Summer Camps, kids make lifelong friends grounded in the experience of living together and caring for each other in many ways. They learn social rules, acceptable behavior and leadership. And the positive role models campers find in their adult counselors can have a lasting impact on their lives.

■ Nature

Kids have fewer and fewer opportunities to be outdoors. As Richard Louv makes clear in his bestseller, Last Child in the Woods: Saving our Children from Nature Deficit Disorder, nature must be experienced to be fully appreciated. Living in a natural setting is a defining experience of summer camp—especially in Maine.

■ Exercise

Maine Summer Camps offer a range of activities that fosters enjoyment of physical activity and counteracts the effects of increasingly sedentary lifestyles. It's a lot easier to get motivated to be active when exciting, new activities available in Maine's beautiful outdoors are right at your doorstep!

■ Activities and Play

Maine Summer Camps offer wonderful, structured activities to meet campers' individual interests, with ample time for kids to just be kids—to engage spontaneously in games, free play, discussions and simply hang out together.

■ Learning

Maine camps provide kids with an experience of learning that is different from school. Campers are more actively involved and more experientially engaged. For example, recent research has shown that 95 percent of science is learned outside the classroom. Camps also are an ideal setting for fostering social and emotional learning, which is essential to the healthy development of children.

■ Developing Initiative, Confidence and Leadership Skills

Summer camps are microcosms of the larger world. They are highly participatory communities where children can safely gain confidence and stretch their evolving capacities for leadership and initiative. Often for the first time, campers experience caring adults outside their families and meet peers from outside their circle of friends. In short, a Maine camp experience can be the opportunity of a lifetime: a concentrated period of growing and learning, personal development and new friendships—along with the priceless gift of discovering Maine's unparalleled natural beauty.

Parents and siblings: enjoy a real Maine vacation!

Why should the kids have all the fun? We enthusiastically recommend that parents combine their visits to camp with planned vacations — a chance to discover all that Maine has to offer, from quaint seaside villages to mountains, lakes and rivers, to shopping and summer stock theater. To plan your Maine visit, check out the Parents Resource section of our website at www.maine camps.org offering links to accommodations, restaurants, attractions, excursions, and even Maine magazines to help plan summer vacations. Helpful vacation information is also available at www.maine tourism.com.

CURTIS THAXTER

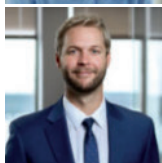

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Providing legal advice and guidance for Maine summer camps for over 50 years

Curtis Thaxter provides youth camps with experienced representation in children's issues, employment, state and federal regulatory compliance, contracts, property taxation, zoning, environmental matters, litigation, intellectual property, and estate planning and succession services.

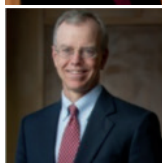

Nancy Savage Marcus advises camp clients on real estate and land use matters, corporate governance, financing and contracts, ownership transfers, crisis management, mandatory reporting requirements and many other issues affecting youth camps.

Tyler Costello assists clients with liability waivers, real estate and corporate law, land use matters, property tax issues and appeals, and advises camps on laws concerning minors, including Maine's mandatory reporting statute, and disability and discrimination issues.

Emily Crowley is a business litigator who also advises employers in areas including wage and hour law, contracts, personnel decisions, discrimination, harassment, and workplace safety. Emily also assists clients in drafting and updating employment policies and staff handbooks.

John Gleason counsels businesses on employment matters, including hiring and termination, contract structure and negotiation, wage and hour laws, and compliance with state and federal antidiscrimination and sexual harassment laws.

Patti Smith, our assistant, has provided support for Curtis Thaxter's Maine camps team for over 10 years. Patti's extensive knowledge of our clients and their needs and her strong problem-solving skills make her a great client resource.

We at Curtis Thaxter are proud to support our Maine youth camps as they navigate the challenges of providing an exceptional outdoor educational experience for children. If you need assistance, please contact Nancy Marcus at nmarcus@curtisthaxter.com.

2024 Maine Summer Camps Members

(ACA) Accredited by the American Camp Association – The ACA designation after the name of a camp listed in this directory means it is accredited by the American Camp Association, and is authorized to display the Accredited Camp seal logo. Camps are accredited following periodic extensive on-site reviews for compliance with more than 300 rigorous standards focusing on health, safety, and risk management practices. For current information on a camp's accreditation status, contact the American Camp Association, New England: www.acanewengland.org

Gender Inclusive – These camps have chosen to include this term as they have experience hosting non-binary and/or transgender campers. Please call the individual camps' directors to discuss further.

(JMG) Junior Maine Guide Program – The Junior Maine Guide Program (JMG) is a joint effort of Maine Summer Camps and the Maine State Department of Inland Fisheries & Wildlife. Established in 1937 by the Maine State Legislature, the JMG Program is an outdoors skills program for youth ages 9-18. It promotes the use of the Maine wilderness for recreation and environmentally responsible land use practices. JMG certification lays the groundwork for later training and certification for a Maine Trip Leader permit, but also provides skills for a lifetime for outdoors enthusiasts. Using current philosophies in outdoor living, the program is unique to Maine and is offered by various Maine summer camps.

The mission of Maine Summer Camps: We support and promote meaningful developmental, educational, environmental, and recreational experiences for children.

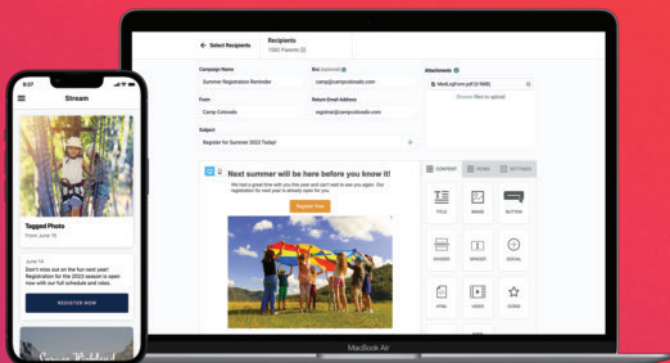

About Maine Summer Camps: Using our online presence, publications, trainings, and conferences, we enhance the public's understanding of the value of Maine camps. We also support camp and business members by offering in-person and virtual educational and networking opportunities; a broad range of resource information, in print, electronically, and online; and carefully curated general, regulatory, and legislative news and updates.
